$30,000,000 MORE*Secretary Shaw Has Other Plans to Relieve Stringency.*Will Accept Municipal Bonds as Basis of Circulation.

New York, Sept. 30.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw has issued a statement in which he says that the banks will hereafter not be required to carry a reserve against government deposits secured by government bonds. This will make available over $20,000,000.

Secretary Shaw declined to discuss the financial situation further than to say that the treasury department would cooperate as far as possible with the banks in their effort to supply the necessary credit to do the unprecedented amount of business that is taxing railroads and steamship lines as well as banks to the utmost.

Mr. Shaw said he had never seen any good reason why banks holding a government deposit secured by government bonds should be required to carry a reserve against it. First, it is a deposit not likely to be called for in a time of stringency; and second, if called the collateral will always sell for cash in excess of the deposit. He has since he took charge of the treasury contented relieving the banks of this burden.

The comptroller of currency agrees with the secretary, and therefore it is announced hereafter that banks will not be required to carry a reserve against government deposits secured by government bonds.

The treasury has on deposit with various banks scattered throughout the country from Maine to California and from Minnesota to New Orleans, in round numbers one hundred and thirty millions, against which the banks have heretofore been compelled to hold more than thirty millions of gold or its equivalent. This decision will release that much reserve and thirty millions additional credit.

The secretary said he would still continue to make deposits of internal revenue and miscellaneous receipts available for that purpose practically a half million per day, as the situation required it and if the banks were unable to retain government bonds to secure the same he would accept the same general class of securities, municipal bonds, etc., as are made available by the laws of the several states for savings banks. By this it is not intended to loan in excess of twenty per cent of the par value and nothing will be accepted that has not been panic-stricken and proven salable for cash on call. He said he should of course, determine each case by itself. The secretary further said he would accept security of the claims deposited for a portion of the deposits held by each bank, now holding a government deposit and release enough to two per cent consols to cover any increased currency that the bank may desire to issue. He has recognized the possibility of present conditions and therefore as early as last July, commenced printing currency preparatory to the needs of the banks to handle the increased business of the fall trade and has on hand $25,000,000. This can be sent out at the probable rate of five millions a day by the banks to substitute the other securities above designated for the release of the consols. This step was contemplated when some money was asked the banks holding government deposits to order additional currency printed. The secretary's additional action therefore may be summed up as follows:

First, the release of practically thirty millions of reserve, which will permit the banks to increase their volume of business one hundred and thirty millions.

Second, the substitution of other securities for the bonds held by the government, on condition that the same shall be used as a basis for increased circulation of currency by the banks and will immediately increase the volume twenty or twenty-five millions and will add thereto if needed.

Third, the continuance of deposits to the limit allowed by law, accepting, if necessary, security other than government bonds.

Secretary Shaw will remain in New York today and expects to visit the financial district.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED.*Parties Accused of Involving Stratton Estate for Profit.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 30.—Counsel for the executors in the already famous litigation over the estate of late W. S. Stratton have taken a step that is in all respects the most sensational yet taken in the controversy. Formal charges of conspiracy to involve the Stratton estate in litigation for the profit of persons interested in no way in the estate are brought against Messrs. H. M. Blackmore and C. C. Hamlin, two of the administrators appointed by Judge Orr, Blackmore being declared to have already put up considerable money of his own in an effort to carry out the terms of a deliberately and fraudulent conspiracy entered into with a view of speculating upon the will of the estate.

A charge is made that the court itself, the judge of which is a brother-in-law of O. P. Grimes, the third administrator to collect, has shown itself biased and prejudiced and grossly imposed upon, and the demand is made that the action be taken out of this court and referred to the district court of El Paso county. The charges are made in the nature of an answer to the petition of the administrators to collect as a result of which the court has refused to recognize the administrators to collect. The charges are made in the nature of an answer to the petition of the administrators to collect as a result of which the court has refused to recognize the administrators to collect. The charges are made in the nature of an answer to the petition of the administrators to collect as a result of which the court has refused to recognize the administrators to collect.

The answer filed further charges that Governor C. S. Thomas, of Denver, is attorney for the administrators to collect appointed by the court and also for certain persons who intend and have intended to bring suit against the Stratton estate involving practically the entire estate. The administrators to collect, Blackmore and Hamlin are declared to be financially interested in a company which is declared to have entered into contracts with young Stratton by which they assure all expense of litigation, guarantee him the $50,000 allowed him in the will and secure the right to involve the estate in litigation for their own profit.

The bond in the sum of $30,000,000 which was given by the administrators to collect is made an object of attack. It is declared that the statutes of Colorado prohibit any bonding company from writing a bond in excess of half its capitalization and that the aggregate capitalization of the companies who have written these bonds is but four millions.

MRS. NATION'S PLANS.*Has Been Invited to England—Expected in October.

London, Sept. 30.—Although the report that Mrs. Carrie Nation was coming to England to smash the British publican has been printed and denied from time to time, it can now be stated definitely that she has been invited over by an important body known as the National Prohibition league. She is expected to arrive in England the second week of October. English saloon keepers are really alarmed by news of her expected advent and are preparing to spend a quarter million dollars if necessary in fortifying themselves behind the law. The National Prohibition league has been in existence for about ten years and is supported by some of the most substantial people in the country including Lady Henry Somerset, the Countess of Warwick, Sir Wilfred Lawson, M. P., several bishops both of the Roman Catholic and Established churches, Nonconformists of distinction and a number of minor temperance societies.

The Trade declares that Mrs. Nation is merely touring on a money making mission, but Bradley, the secretary of the prohibition league, emphatically denies this. It is stated that Mrs. Nation is coming over at her own expense, and will not receive a farthing for her services.

Mrs. Nation will not wait to come to London. Immediately on landing she is to start her campaign in Liverpool and will then proceed to the principal cities in England, Scotland and Ireland. It is not decided yet whether she will be encouraged to adopt the destructive tactics which characterized her operations in America, but a good deal will be left to her own discretion after she has personally surveyed the situation.

RAIN INTERFERES.*Field Maneuvers for Tuesday Declared Off at Fort Riley.

Fort Riley, Kan., Sept. 30.—Last night's heavy storm placed the ground in such a wretched condition for a good deal of time to come. The morning maneuvers were cancelled and the program for the day was decided to call off the program for the day.

Instead of the maneuver originally scheduled for the day, it was decided to hold a general review later in the day in honor of Assistant Secretary of War Sanger and Brigadier General Carter, acting adjutant general of the army and Governor Stanley of Kansas. The attack on the convoy which was to have been the feature of the day was postponed to tomorrow. This morning was occupied by a general discussion of the military problems that have already been worked out.

The commanding officers of the opposing forces in each one of the maneuvers read his report, the umpires report was read and general explanation and a discussion followed. The lecture was conducted for the benefit of the national guard officers who were given every facility to acquire all possible information.

The storm which swept over Fort Riley last night was one of the most severe that has been experienced here for several years.

The wind blew a howling gale, the rain fell in torrents and the cold was intense. Some of the national guard officers were actually struck during the latter part of the evening camp without equipment of any kind and but for the efforts of Captain C. B. Baker, the camp quartermaster, many of them would have fared badly. Captain Baker with his assistants labored in the storm until long after midnight and would not leave until everything possible had been done. The quartermaster's department has looked after the comfort of the members of the national guard with the same assiduity that has been employed by General Bates, his staff officers and the military umpires in rounding out their military education.

Lieut. Col. Ranpoop, the Russian military attaché, arrived last night in the worst of the storm. He is a soldier who has seen much active service and at once gave evidence of his intention to see the bright side of things. He looked around the camp as well as he could, and in the intense darkness his vision might possibly extend ten feet, turned his face toward the leaky clouds and said:

"This is fine; this is bee-yoo-tiful. It is all-ways nice to come to a camp in a rain."

An infantry captain who heard it remarked: "A man who can say that on a night like this and not choke on it is all right."

The quartermaster General Weston has also arrived at the camp.
